INNOVATIVE IDEAS. TRUSTED ADVICE.

Description:

Michigan's Work Share program allows you to keep your employees working with reduced hours, while employees collect partial unemployment benefits to make up a portion of the lost wages.

Advantages of Work Share

- Minimizes or eliminates the need for layoffs
- Enables a business to retain trained employees and avoid the expense of recruiting, hiring and training new employees
- Saves money and keeps your skilled workforce intact
- Can be used in almost all types of business or industry
- Employees are spared the hardship of full unemployment and receive more income than if they were fully laid off

Any employer who has a reduction in production, services or other conditions which will cause potential layoffs

Participating employees must:

- Be eligible for regular unemployment benefits
- Be full time employees
- Have earned a sufficient amount of wages in order to establish an unemployment claim and receive Work Share benefits.

Work Share does not apply to seasonal, temporary, or intermittent employment.

Program Requirements

Employers must meet and maintain the following requirement in order to participate in the Work Share program:

- Unemployment taxes must be current
- Experience account balance must have “positive” reserve
- Must have paid wages for at least the previous 12 quarters
- Cannot hire new employees into the affected work unit nor transfer employees into the unit during a plan
- Cannot reduce the hours of work below the number approved under a plan

- Must agree to not have any layoffs in order to participate in Work Share.
- In lieu of layoffs employers must reduce employees' hours from 15% to 45%.
- Must maintain participating employees' fringe benefits and obtain approval from collective bargaining representatives
- Employers may have two or more plans covering separate work units. All employees in the affected unit must participate in the plan. A plan must include a minimum of two employees. Plans may be approved for a period of up to 52 consecutive weeks.

What Information Will I Need to Apply?

- Describe the affected unit (or units) covered by the plan.
- Include the number of full or part-time workers in the unit and the percentage of workers in the unit covered by the plan.
- Identify each individual employee in the affected unit by name and social security number.
- Provide the employer's unemployment tax account number
- Provide an estimate of the number of workers who would have been laid off in the absence of the Work Share plan.

Employers are required to:

- Identify the usual weekly hours of work for employees in the affected unit.
- Provide the specific percentage by which hours will be reduced during all weeks covered by the plan. The percentage of reduction of hours must be no less than 15 percent and no greater than 45 percent.
- Specify if plan includes a period where employer normally provides no work (such as for a holiday or other plant closings, if applicable).

Details for a Work Share Plan

- You may have more than one plan. Employers can have multiple plans within the organization if each plan covers two or more employees.
- Plans may be approved for a period of up to 52 consecutive weeks.
- You can renew the Work Share plan after it expires. When the plan expires, UIA will notify the employer to renew the plan by submitting a new application.
- You can implement a Work Share plan for one or more departments, shifts, or units. A unit consists of two or more employees. You have the flexibility to specify affected areas.

- You may return individuals or groups to work full time for a week or two and then continue the plan. You have the flexibility to stop or continue as needed.
- You may modify the original plan after reporting any changes to UIA via MiWAM. Substantial changes will be reevaluated for approval.
- The plan must include a description of how workers in the affected unit will be given advance notice of the employer's participation in the Work Share plan.

Changing or Ending a Work Share Plan

- An employer may apply for approval to modify an approved Work Share plan, if the employer's circumstances change.
- An employer may terminate an approved Work Share plan by notifying the UIA through their MiWAM account.
- The UIA may terminate an approved plan for good cause.
